When you are thinking about buying a new home or remodeling your current home, turn to a member of the Wayne County Builders Association (WCBA) for these important reasons:

- Membership in the WCBA is a strong indication that builders and trade associate professionals, dedicated to the business of home building, committed to customer satisfaction and in business for the long term.
- Membership in the Association is voluntary. Members agree to the WCBA's Code of Ethics, which is based on principles of fairness, integrity and consumer satisfaction.
- Being a professional in the building trades means constant learning! Through the WCBA, members keep up-to-date on technological advances, regulations, products and materials, financing, design and so on.
- Home building is teamwork that takes the skills, expertise and cooperation of many suppliers and trades. Builders who belong to the WCBA have ready access to a network of professional companies and individuals providing services to the residential construction industry.
- Members subscribe to a code of ethics, are registered and/or licensed as required by the State and must maintain liability coverage and workers compensation insurance where appropriate.
- As a company involved in the building trades, it is also important to understanding what's going on in the community, and how it might affect the industry and consumers. Association members have access to wide range of information to keep them informed and up-to-date on important issues. They also have opportunities to meet and work with local decision-makers.
